AFRICA IN COLORS

ABOUT

A tech driven approach

AIC builds, deploys, and manages tech solutions with a goal to monetize creative works, access markets, and micro-lending facilities.

A collaboration approach

AIC key strength is building needed platforms, facilitating talents to be seen and access opportunities, investments to flow, and getting into actions.

A business approach

AIC brings a new way, eye, to the business of art, culture, and creativity in the African CCIs ecosystem.
Over $3.5M were injected in the economy through platforms created by AIC, exchange programs, forums, and entertainment activities.

ACEIF 2027 ABOUT

ACEIF is a Pan-African platform with a bottom up approach, starting at a community level up to the national level, toward regional economic blocks, with a sole purpose to create a more friendly and interconnected market for Africa's CCIs. ACEIF is designed to create tangible impact, unlock opportunities across and beyond the African continent.

ACEIF 2027 will be special, unique, as it will be taking place in two different cities, presenting important and unique opportunities for investors, creatives, governments, to collaborate, build, and for investors and business communities to do business.

ACEIF leverages on the quality of our gathering of global leaders, doers, artists, creatives, influencers, and others, to share best practices, collaborate, co-build innovative solutions for challenges like easy mobility, market access, and access to finance, for the growth of African CCI practitioners, and an African creative economy contributing significantly to Africa's GDP.

MISSION

Creating a unique platform bringing together key pioneers, leaders of industries, artists, decision makers and investors in shaping the future of creative cities and Africa's creative economy— fostering innovation, new partnerships, and building together the creative cities we want, need, must have.

VISION

Building thriving, inclusive, and investment-ready creative cities where art, culture, creativity, tech and business converge for greater and better social economic development for our cities and designed to attract visionary global creatives, innovators, inventors, investors.

The founder's message

With our 2027 edition, the 6th edition we have produced so far, will ensure more impact on our local cities, facilitate the establishment of meaningful partnerships for the private sector, but also PPPs, and through the work of various participants, amplify African talents and ways our cities can position themselves, can be more creative for the true African greatness to be achieved through creative cities, and by empowering, giving young Africans environments and tools to thrive, to be great.

We invite you, pioneers of industries, leaders, governments, creatives, from across the world to join us, to contribute to these important conversations, be part of other disruptors, create markets for your cities or people, take part in the future we want to build for our creative economy, the next generation and our cities.
